Rain Garden Installation Services Directory for New Jersey

Bulletin E326

Cooperative Extension

Madeline Flahive DiNardo, Agricultural Agent, Union County,
Amy Boyajian, Program Associate, Rutgers Water Resources Program,
Dr. Christopher Obropta, Specialist in Water Resources,
Mary Cummings, Program Associate, Gloucester County
Greg Rusciano, Former Environmental Resource Management Agent

Rain Gardens are a beautiful and beneficial addition to any landscape. They are designed to capture storm water runoff from impervious surfaces such as roof tops, driveways, sidewalks, streets, or parking lots. The storm water is directed into a shallow excavated garden filled with native plants by way of gutters or small channels. By capturing storm water, rain gardens help to reduce storm water pollution, such as road sediment, salt, fertilizers, pesticides, and bacteria from pet waste. Rain gardens also capture eroded soil, grass clippings, litter and more. The average rain garden can treat 25,000 gallons of water a year! In addition, rain gardens add beauty to neighborhoods and provide wildlife habitat.

Rutgers Cooperative Extension offers a one and a half day training program for landscape professionals on how to install and maintain a rain garden. The rain garden training includes in-class lectures and a hands-on demonstration, including the installation of a rain garden. Topics include:

- Site selection
- Design
- Native plant selection
- Construction
- Maintenance
- New Jersey storm water regulations
- Costs

The professional landscapers receive a certificate of completion for the rain garden training.

Listed in this directory are the professional landscape businesses that have completed the Rutgers classroom training and rain garden installation program.

- The section for Southern New Jersey lists businesses that operate in Atlantic, Burlington, Camden, Cape May, Cumberland, Gloucester, Ocean and Salem Counties.

- The section for Northern New Jersey lists businesses that operate in Bergen, Essex, Hudson, Hunterdon, Mercer, Middlesex, Monmouth, Morris, Passaic, Somerset, Sussex, Union and Warren Counties.

Mention or display of a trademark, proprietary product, or firm in text or figures does not constitute an endorsement by Rutgers Cooperative Extension and does not imply approval to the exclusion of other suitable products or firms.
